

The Palm Beach Post

D2 THE PALM BEACH POST REAL NEWS STARTS HERE | MONDAY, JUNE 4, 2018

BUSINESS

LOCAL BUSINESS PEOPLE TO WATCH

Harley

LEGAL

Kelley Kronenberg, a diverse business law firm, has promoted Lydia Harley, Casey B. Mullin and Alberto Polimeni from attorneys to partners in several of the firm's South Florida offices.

Mullin

Harley, who is based in the firm's Fort Lauderdale office, manages the firm's Multinational Client Practice Group and is the director of the firm's German Practice. She earned her bachelor of science in global business and public policy from the University of Maryland, where she graduated magna cum laude. Harley earned her master of business administration, with a concentration in operations management, from Florida Atlantic University and her juris doctor, summa cum laude, from Nova Southeastern University's Shepard Broad College of Law. Additionally, she studied law at Justus-Liebig-Universität Giessen in Germany, with a primary focus on constitutional, contract, tort and criminal law.

Polimeni

Mullin, from the firm's West Palm Beach office, focuses his practice on general liability, first-party property insurance defense, commercial litigation and criminal defense. He previously worked as an assistant public defender for the Office of the Public Defender, 15th Judicial Circuit, in West Palm Beach. He earned his bachelor of arts in political science and American history from Boston University, and went on to earn his juris doctor from Nova Southeastern University's Shepard Broad College of Law. While attending law school, Mullin worked for the Office of the Public Defender in Palm Beach County as a certified legal intern. He is admitted to practice law in Florida and the District of Columbia.

Polimeni, who is located at the Miami office, is a member of the firm's Immigration and Nationality Practice Group and serves as the director of the firm's Italian Practice. Polimeni assists foreign entities and individuals in successfully establishing business in the U.S., as well as domestic clients in the area of corporate, business and employment law. He earned his law degree from Roma Tre University of Rome and then went on to earn his juris doctor from Nova Southeastern University's Shepard Broad College of Law through a dual-degree program between the two law schools. He is admitted to practice law in Italy, Florida and the U. S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida.