

Kelley Kronenberg values growth, diversity, and placing an emphasis on exceeding our lawyer's expectations. We offer our attorneys the opportunity to further their careers by performing sophisticated legal work using cutting-edge technology, that enables effective collaboration and efficient caseload management. Our firm is proud to offer state of the art technology, unparalleled administrative and business development support, and an outstanding work environment. We continually seek out lateral associates, partners, and practice groups to join our growing firm. Firm Managing Partner and Chief Executive Officer, Michael Fichtel, welcomes the opportunity for a confidential discussion. At Kelley Kronenberg, we believe that a major differentiator between our firm and others is our relentless pursuit of superior client service. As such, we believe in equipping all of our firm members with the skills and training needed to build strong relationships, demonstrate exceptional responsiveness and client communication, offer an extraordinary value, and fully and intricately understand each of our client's unique business needs and goals.
