

Kelley Kronenberg Relocates Tallahassee Office to Accommodate Growing Practice

TALLAHASSEE, FLA. – Kelley Kronenberg has announced that the law firm's Tallahassee office has expanded to a new, larger location. As of Sept. 1, the office relocated to 201 S. Monroe Street, Suite 5, across from the State Capitol Building. Kelley Kronenberg's Tallahassee office handles General Liability, Regulatory and Appellate work, as well as Workers' Compensation. The resident partner is Jose Pagan, who focuses his practice on insurance issues at both the state and appellate levels. Over the past several years, Kelley Kronenberg has aggressively expanded across Florida and the U.S., including the addition of several areas of practice and attorneys. Some of the firm's new practice areas include Trusts & Estate, Bankruptcy, Criminal Law, Employment Law, Family Law and Foreclosure Mediation. In addition to Tallahassee, the firm has eight other Florida locations, as well as offices in Houston and Chicago. The new Tallahassee office building is designated a historic landmark.
