

Kelley Kronenberg serves as outside general counsel to many of the world's prominent businesses, as well as family-owned companies, closely-held corporations, sole proprietorships, privately held companies, start-ups, and growing local or regional companies, and help them with their legal, contractual, organizational, and operational needs.

As a cross-disciplinary law firm, Kelley Kronenberg is in a unique position to provide complete legal counseling service on every aspect of business development, create business strategies, improve operations, identify legal opportunities and mitigate potential risks.

Our business attorneys guide businesses on a range of issues, from daily operations-related challenges, such as contract preparation and review, to extraordinary events, such as mergers and acquisitions. By working closely with our clients, we gain a deep understanding of their activities and objectives and, because of this, we can provide focused, client-centered, and cost-effective advice and counsel on legal issues confronting clients daily.

In our role as outside general counsel, we receive the first call when our clients encounter business issues with legal implications. Acting as strategic advisors to our clients, we work swiftly and effectively with diverse practices throughout the firm to implement the right solutions and resolve the matter at hand with an eye toward the future.

As outside general counsel, we coordinate and oversee:

- Commercial contracts, licensing agreements, and strategic transactions
- Corporate governance, board and shareholder resolutions, consents, directors meetings, shareholder meetings, and minutes
- Counseling officers and directors on fiduciary duties and strategic considerations
- Employment matters, including hiring, retention, termination, and employee handbooks
- Executive compensation, including stock options, restricted stock agreements, and equity and non-equity based incentive compensation
- Trademark, copyright, and other intellectual property protection
- Pre-Litigation preventative counseling and strategy for risk management
- Real estate purchases and commercial leasing
