

Collectively, Kelley Kronenberg's Financial Services Group has more than fifty years of experience representing lenders with extensive experience counseling and representing banks, finance companies, and other financial service industry clients in state and federal court litigation, arbitration and appeals. Our clients in the financial services industry include national banks, local and national mortgage lenders and servicers, title insurance companies, and national landlords/property, owners. Additionally, our clients include numerous regional banks and lenders, mortgage insurers, broker-dealers, private equity investors, warehouse lenders, homebuilders, and other participants in the mortgage industry.

Kelley Kronenberg provides lenders with legal representation that encompasses the entire loan portfolio, including training on compliance issues, litigation and appeals. Our attorneys help lenders and mortgage holders protect and enforce their rights. Kelley Kronenberg represents and counsels lenders and creditors who face disputes with borrowers and other debtors over a range of matters including; insuring that mortgages are properly executed and recorded, filing foreclosure claims, obtaining appointment of receivers, reducing mortgages to judgment, and reclaiming properties through foreclosure sales.