

Kelley Kronenberg's Insurance Defense Practice Group consists of a multidisciplinary group of attorneys who represent insurance companies in a wide range of matters affecting their business. Our attorneys frequently represent insurance industry clients in matters involving complex and sophisticated coverage and claims litigation. Kelley Kronenberg also provides coverage opinions and consultations on subjects dealing with all lines of coverage throughout the United States.

Our clients require assistance in various business and corporate areas including public and private insurance providers, multinational insurance and financial services organizations, major insurance brokerage and risk management companies, health and disability companies, third party administrators (TPAs), reinsurance companies, and property and casualty companies. Kelley Kronenberg offers skilled representation in the defense of claims involving all types of insurance policies, whether they are comprehensive general liability policies, errors and omissions, directors and officers, professional services liability, employer's liability, travel insurance, homeowners, auto, or any other type of policy.

Our attorneys offer decades of combined experience to meet the unique needs of our insurance clients. We routinely represent insurance companies in matters including coverage disputes, first-party and third-party bad faith claims, large uninsured and underinsured motorist claims, and fraud claims. Within our extensive insurance defense practice, Kelley Kronenberg combines its broad experience and strategic planning skills to achieve the best possible outcomes for clients.